Applicants wish to thank the Examiner for the courtesies extended to the undersigned during the telephonic conference of June 16, 2004. The Examiner and the undersigned discussed the indefiniteness rejections with respect to the originally-filed specification teachings. It was agreed that Applicants would address the indefiniteness rejections in view of the specification teachings in the response which accompanies this summary. Further, Applicants clarified that the conductive pads of the claims examined for the March 17, 2004 Office Action are not explicitly part of the invention defined by such examined claims. Applicants submit new claims in the accompanying response which positively recite the pads. The Examiner and the undersigned also discussed the Akamine teachings relied upon in support of the rejections, the reliance upon inherency, and claimed limitations of claims 34, 38 and 73. The content of the discussions is addressed in the remarks of the response which accompanies this summary.

The Examiner is requested to phone the undersigned if the Examiner believes such would facilitate prosecution of the present application. The undersigned is available for telephone consultation at any time during normal business hours (Pacific Time Zone).

Respectfully submitted,
